

Nov 23-24, 2025: Ops summary

Prepared by Mark M

Layout

- The layout was spacious with good aisle widths despite being on the larger side.
- Seven guests attended, with 2-3 showing potential interest in membership, including one former HOTRAK member from 20 years ago.

Operations

- A new engineer was certified following a familiarization and check ride for a new member with prior experience.
- Operations flowed smoothly overall.
- Switching at City Bakery provided a rewarding challenge involving three boxcars on Track 2.

Key Observations

- UPS containers stacked together exceed the height clearance under the Valleyfield bridge, whereas regular double-stack containers fit without issue.

Module Cabinets

- Cabinets 4, 5, and 6 were introduced, streamlining takedown:
  - Modules didn't need to be assembled or have end plates attached.
  - Loading was easier as each cabinet held half a module, making them lighter to handle than full modules on a dolly.
- Work is needed to:
  - Determine storage solutions for end plates.
  - Decide on the future of old module dollies.
- Only a few modules remain unboxed, and efforts will focus on building cabinets for them.
